grievance redressal cell and placement cell worked well and located good job opportunities. Despite all this, the college alumni association significantly not contributed to academic and non-academic matters. It was felt that the college administration tries to make an active alumni association. The college administration developed strategies for the mobilisation of resources. Study discloses that higher education colleges have not adequately adopted water conservation practices, non-conventional energy resources and appropriate management systems for biodegradable and nonbiodegradable waste. It is high time for administration as well faculty members to work together for quality practices in their institutions.

Abstract:

Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) is the apex central level vigilance institution, free of control from any executive authority. It monitors all vigilance activity under the Central Government. It advises various authorities in Central Government organizations in the process of planning, executing, reviewing and reforming their vigilance work. Vigilance means to ensure clean and prompt administrative action towards achieving efficiency and effectiveness of the employees in particular and the organization in general, as lack of vigilance leads to waste, losses and economic decline.

The CVC was set up by the Government in February, 1964 on the recommendations of the Committee on Prevention of Corruption, headed by Shri K. Santhanam (Annual Report; 2010: 01). In 2003, the Parliament enacted CVC Act conferring statutory status on the CVC (The Central Vigilance Commission Act 2003). The CVC is not controlled by any Ministry or Department. It is an independent body which is only responsible to the Parliament.
